Your task is to create a poster that depicts each of five principles.

The poster should be made similar to the one shown below, but no need to have the exact same layout.

Each of the five principles should have its own section, with the main title in the middle.

For each principle, state the name and draw an image related to it, try to use different images than the ones found in the textbook.

Use the space below as a rough sketch of your poster.
